DESCRIPTION:

Recalling one's own tradition does not mean foregoing innovation. Today Mastroberardino is one of the most advanced syntheses of technical competence in the field. Nevertheless, the application of this competence doesn't aim to change the fundamental nature and characteristics of the ancient wines, but to preserve their existence and value, and to harmonize them with the evolution of schemes and ideas which represent a distinctive mark of wine tasting.

TASTING NOTES:

Intense aromas of beeswax, stone fruit and a hint of honey jump from the glass. The bright palate offers juicy apricot, nectarine and crisp green apple alongside vibrant acidity. A mineral note marks the finish." (Kerin O'Keefe - June 1st, 2015)
